

To my preferred grocer,

I want to introduce you to my favorite grass-fed beef company, Jones Creek Beef, and ask you to consider selling their delicious, healthy, humanely raised products in your store.

Jones Creek Beef is a leading all-natural*, grass-fed beef company that produces and markets premium free range, grass-fed, grass-finished beef. What sets Jones Creek Beef apart is their high level of commitment toward doing what is best and right for each animal throughout its lifetime. The way they raise and handle their cattle is of utmost importance in providing tender, flavorful, and nutritious beef to their consumers. They take great pride in their stewardship over their land and livestock. Plus all of their beef is raised, processed and packaged in the USA!

Buying products and supporting brands that share the same values as mine is very important to me. Especially when it comes to health, taste, sustainability, and supporting products from the USA.

Since I love shopping in your store, I would greatly appreciate it if you would consider carrying Jones Creek Beef products or adding a few additional cuts to your current selection. The product options and ordering information is listed below. You can also learn more about Jones Creek Beef by visiting www.jonescreekbeef.com.

Thanks you so much for your time and for having a desire to carry products we choose to support and purchase!
